

ICE Digital Trust

Next level, institutional-grade digital asset custody

As national and local governments become larger holders of crypto currencies and institutional investors continue to adopt digital assets into funds and portfolios – transforming cryptocurrencies into a meaningful and growing asset class – trusted digital asset custody is crucial to protect investments, adhere to regulatory compliance and build trust in the management of crypto-currencies and tokenized assets across markets and participants.

ICE Digital Trust’s custody service offers licensed, institutional-grade secure storage, infrastructure, and management of digital assets to help mitigate risks and ensure compliance with regulatory standards.
