

Mini U.S. Stock Futures

ICE Futures Europe

Precise access to leading U.S. stocks across time zones

Mini U.S. Stock Futures are exchange-traded, cash-settled futures that track the price of individual U.S.-listed stocks, allowing traders to take long or short positions in leading U.S. companies through a regulated, centrally cleared market.

With smaller contract sizes, Mini Single Stock Futures offer more precise position sizing and more efficient risk management than trading shares outright.

Key features

Smaller size for precise exposure mini contracts valued at 10x the underlying share price to scale positions incrementally

Trade long or short with ease, express bullish or bearish views or hedge existing stock holdings without liquidating underlying shares or borrowing stock

Capital-efficient access to U.S. stocks futures trading requires a fraction of the contract's notional value as margin, enabling efficient use of capital while maintaining direct exposure to individual U.S. stock price movements

Global trading hours from 8 a.m. to 1 a.m. HKT giving Asian-based traders the ability to respond immediately to overnight U.S. news, earnings releases and global market developments, rather than waiting for the U.S. cash market to open
