ICE and ICEMT Notice at Collection

This "Notice at Collection" (the "Notice") provides certain disclosures about our collection, processing, sharing, selling, targeted advertising, and retention of California personal information, including in the past 12 months.

This Notice is intended to supplement the ICE Privacy Policy, the ICE MT Privacy Policy and other related notices (the "Privacy Policies"). To the extent this Notice conflicts with the Privacy Policies, the Privacy Policies govern.

Categories of Personal Information

The personal information we collect is described in the "Type of Information We Collect" or "Personal Information We Collect" sections of our Privacy Policies, which specifically includes the following categories of personal information (as defined in applicable laws), including sensitive personal information (as defined under California law):

- Identifiers, such as your name, date of birth, age, address, country of residence, phone number, email address, account login and password, or other identification details;
- Commercial information including records of products or services purchased, obtained, or considered, or other purchasing or consuming histories or tendencies;
- Characteristics of protected classifications and demographic information, such as gender, age, race, disability status, sexual orientation, gender identity, military/veteran status, marital status, national origin, and medical information;
- Internet or other electronic network activity information, including information regarding your interactions with us online and information we obtain from third parties about use of our applications on third-party platforms or devices;
- Geolocation data, including precise or approximate location information provided by a mobile device or other device or product interacting with or detected by our sites, applications, or physical properties, where we are permitted by law to process this information;
- Education information, such as the information included in your curriculum vitae;
- Professional information, such as your job title, company, or investor type;
- Financial information, such as your credit card information when making a purchase (a third-party service provider processes these transactions on our behalf and will collect from you your contact information [such as your name, address, and e-mail] and financial information [such as credit card number and expiration date]);
- Audio, electronic, visual, or similar information, such as photographs or voice recordings;

- Inferences concerning the above categories: and

- Your preferences, such as how often you wish to receive marketing or other communications.

Sources of Personal Information

As further described in the "How We Collect Your Information" and the "Type of Information We Collect" section of our Privacy Policies, the sources from which we collect personal information are:

- Directly from you;
- From third-party sites or platforms, analytics tools, social networks, advertising networks, and third-party services that update or supplement information we hold about you (e.g., from trusted sources, such as data providers);
- From our service providers, when they collect data on our behalf; and
- Automatically, as described in "Personal Information We Collect Automatically" in the Privacy Policies.

Purposes for Which Personal Information is Collected, Processed, and Disclosed

As further described in "Our Purposes for Processing Your Personal Information" and "Use of Your Personal Information," below is a summary of how we use your personal information. Each category of Personal Information is disclosed to one or more third parties as described in Privacy Policies.

- To communicate with you, including responding to your comments or requests for information, requesting feedback on our products and services, and notifying you about changes to your subscriptions or to the services and products you use;

- To help us understand our customers, to tailor and enhance our product and service offerings, anticipate and resolve problems with any products or services supplied to you, create products or services that may meet your needs;

- To make inferences regarding market data, to improve search results, and for data extraction, including through the use of Artificial Intelligence, in which case personal information such as counterparty identifying information or personal information used for authentication may be incidentally processed. We do not use personal information for "automated decision-making" producing legal or similarly significant effects;

- To provide access to restricted pages or contents of the Digital Services (e.g., password protected webpages);

- To comply with legal and/or regulatory requirements and cooperate with regulators and law enforcement bodies;

- To facilitate your activity and to identify you when you log into your account on our Digital Services;
- To send you marketing communications and advertising, in line with your communications preferences and where permitted by applicable law, about products and services that we believe would be of interest to you, including products and services offered by third parties;
- To evaluate the success of our advertising campaigns, to improve our products and services, to assess patterns of use, and to plan and evaluate our marketing and business development programs;
- To train our customer service and chat functions;
- As set forth in our Events Policy; and
- To protect our rights, your rights, and the rights of others, and to meet our own high standards of business practice.

"Selling," "Sharing," or Processing Personal Information for "Targeted Advertising"

Certain data collection and disclosures related to you and your activity on our sites and applications, such as by third parties for purposes of interest-based advertising and social media tools, may be a "sale" or "sharing" or constitute "targeted advertising" under applicable privacy laws.

We "shared" certain data elements within the following categories of personal information: Identifiers, Internet or other electronic network activity information, approximate geolocation, and Inferences drawn from the above.

The purposes for which we "share" personal information are to assist us with advertising, marketing, audience measurement, and other functionality on our digital properties.

We do not "sell," "share," or otherwise process the personal information of known minors under 18 years of age.

If you would like to opt out of "targeted advertising" or "sharing" of your personal information, you may click the "Your Privacy Choices" link in our website footers or in our application settings or follow the instructions set forth in our Privacy Policies.

Timeframe for Retaining Personal Information

We retain your Personal Information for as long as we have a relationship with you and for a period after the relationship has ended and as required by law. When determining how long to keep your Personal Information after our relationship with you has ended, we take into account how long we need to retain the information to fulfil the purposes described above and to comply with our legal obligations, including regulatory obligations. We may also retain Personal Information to investigate or defend against potential legal claims in accordance with the limitation periods of countries where legal action may be brought. At the end of this period, we will delete, anonymize, or deidentify your Personal Information.
