Customer Service Contact Information

Interactive Data Pricing and Reference Data's Business Development Support Group is available to support your DATAFEED interface.

Getting Started with DATAFEED

Setting up a DATAFEED account is easy. Just contact the Business Development Support team and a Product Support Specialist will mail a price sheet and services agreement to you. Complete, sign, and mail the Agreement to the address shown below. On receiving the Services Agreement, a Business Development Support Group representative will call you to set up your Userid and Password.
